Biblical Literacy Development

Manna and Mercy course
Biblical literacy - focus on a single book
Biblical Literacy Webinar with Prof. Robin Baker
Bible Month

Manna and Mercy course

The course is a journey through the story of the Bible, structured to deepen people's theological skills; enhance their skills in handling and understanding scripture and enhance participants' relationship with Jesus.

The course takes a social approach seeking to understand first the text as it was intended by the writers and heard by the first recipients.

It would suit everyone seeking a deeper understanding who is willing to be challenged and to grow.

It is offered as nine 2 hour sessions on zoom and will run twice a year.

"Adrian's ability to gently guide us through each chapter completely left me wanting to know more do more and live a fuller Christian life and I know for certain I now, subconsciously go about my daily life in a different way. Looking at things 'through the lens of Jesus' has helps me to understand more."

"You did warn us that we might find Manna and Mercy challenging and uncomfortable! Thanks for introducing us to Manna and Mercy, Adrian. I could say I'm enjoying it, but that's the wrong word. I'm very glad to be part of the group."

"This is an incredibly powerful way of getting a thematic overview of scripture. I have no doubt that many in our congregations (and in the wider world) would benefit enormously from the material. This not just to significantly aid the reading of scripture but also in thinking through all sorts of modern day issues."

Biblical Literacy: Focus on a single book

A short tour through one specific bible book, probably one of the minor prophets with an emphasis on being close to the text and finding teachable, preachable points.

This will be a brief study of a book of the bible taking a 'close to the text' and socio-political approach to understand what the author's intention and message. It would suit preachers, teachers and small group leaders because it would provide them with 'content' but equally would be suitable for anyone seeking a more in depth study than they might receive in their circuit.

It will be offered as four 1 hour sessions online.

Further information about dates and booking from Adrian Roux

Biblical Literacy Webinar with Prof Robin Baker

Prof Robin Baker will be talking about Middle Eastern (and particularly Mesopotamian) culture and how that influenced the New Testament and Christian thinking.

It will appeal to those interested in more specialized and niche academic knowledge.

A one off, in the first half of November, probably a hybrid event.

Bible Month

Bible Month is an annual campaign that celebrates scripture by inviting the whole Methodist Connexion to feast on one particular book of the Bible together.

Through a menu of carefully curated resources, training and learning opportunities, churches and circuits are encouraged to taste and see the goodness of an individual text; enjoying some of its unique flavours, considering its origins, appreciating its place alongside the rest of scripture, and savouring the unique contribution it might make to our faithful living and learning today.

The campaign is aimed at developing biblical literacy across the Connexion. Specific input is targeted at a variety of groups: local preachers / worship leaders, CYF workers, small group leaders, and individuals wanting to engage more deeply with the Bible / specific texts.

Primary delivery takes place in March and June

From an LP/WL Training Event: "As a Local Preacher it was great to have some much needed insight in preparation for the 'Good News' with fresh and refreshed thoughts. Thank you all."

From a Youth Worker Training Event: "This event was great. The concept of lenses was well introduced and demonstrated. The opportunity to actively participate was appreciated. It left me wanting more."

Alison, Lambeth

"I honestly cannot recommend the programme enough" Deborah

"The programme really helped me to discover my "calling", as if it was designed specifically for me. This is because the programme is designed to increase an understanding of God and how we are being called by God. The programme goes stage by stage, e.g. God, Self, Discipleship, Vocation, Ministry, Mission. This is like peeling an onion one layer at a time until you get to the core. If not for this programme, I would still be making excuses for not responding to my calling. I am now on the Worship: Leading & Preaching course to train as a Local Preacher. To God be the Glory" Ruth

"Encounter helped shape my journey of calling, it taught me to look within – for the unexpected – and find my path" Phil - London

"I've become a steward and come off the 'backbenches' at church – I don't think that would have happened without Encounter. I've also considerably strengthened my prayer life and Bible study." Durham group participant

Theological Literacy

Theology Book Club

Theological Reflection in Practice

Thinking Theologically

Theology Book Club

The Christian tradition is rich with amazing thinkers and activists who have helped us be the kind of Christians we are today. The Learning Network has created a Theology Book Club to give an opportunity for you to hear, explore and engage with these brilliant 'voices' of our tradition.

You don't need to consider yourself a 'theologian', but if you love to explore and think deeply about your faith this might just be for you. Each connexional year we choose two or three books to explore (but our hope is that you will help us find other books to read in the future).

Each book is explored in two 1.5 hour sessions - so 4 sessions if we study 2 books/6 sessions if we study 3 books during each Connexional Year.

"Having struggled alone in the past to read a few theology books so this approach is something I have been really looking for and am very excited about."

Further information from Simon Sutcliffe

Theological Reflection in Practice (TRIP)

We have a gift for you! The Learning Network would like to offer you the opportunity to theologically reflect on various aspects of ministry. This year the sessions will respond to whatever is happening at the time (eg a general election might lead to a session on political theology).

This is open to anyone, but will be particularly useful for those in ministry (lay and ordained) who help to lead churches in mission and ministry. Ministry is an adventures so why don't you join us on a ....TRIP!

"I just wanted to share something with you which has happened to me since the TRIP session this week. After sharing some of my feelings of a lack of confidence in talking to people directly about life and death questions I received a call from the wife of someone who is approaching end of life and he wondered if I could ring him. I have just had a long, natural conversation with him about his feelings and fears about death and dying . He had lots of questions and we explored possible answers together. Funny how God works eh. Thank you for guiding us through that session."

Further information with dates and booking information from Simon Sutcliffe

Thinking Theologically

This is an opportunity to think about how we do theology in order that we can help others to 'think theologically'. Each session will be packed with ideas, tips and theories for facilitating theological enquiry with people in our churches. If you lead worship, bible study groups or fellowship groups - this might be for you.

This year's themes are around Feasts and Festivals - some theological work on the lesser festivals. The online format is three 2 hour sessions, one per term.

"I think this reflection of Tradition is a very important factor in the changes we are facing within our churches. The material helped me to reach affirmation of my thoughts and reflections at this weekend's Synod" (2021-22 Thinking Theologically participant)

Further information about dates and booking from Simon Sutcliffe

Unconscious Bias Training

This training session is suitable for those engaged in the stationing invitation process, as well as all members and leaders of the Methodist Church.

Unconscious bias refers to a bias that we are unaware of, and which happens outside of our control. It happens automatically and is triggered by our brain making quick judgments and assessments of people and situations, influenced by our background, cultural environment and personal experiences.

They have the power to undermine and derail our desire to act justly and fairly towards other including our recruitment, promotion, and openness to new ideas.

A single online 75 minutes session, with some preparatory material and follow up afterwards. It will be offered 7 times during the connexional year.

"It was useful, relevant, well-handled training"
